PRESS RELEASE

World Day of Remembrance for Road Traffic Accident Victims 2019

Doctors for Road Safety (D4RS) would like to extend renewed sympathy to the family and friends of victims of road traffic accidents, and join the Maltese people and the world in remembering these victims especially on Remembrance Day today.

It is very sad and unfortunate that this reality is still with us in an age where prevention is the health mantra. It seems that our society has not yet taken this critical issue seriously enough to curb these senseless deaths and eliminate the epidemic once and for all.

D4RS resolves to continue in its mission towards this vision, along with partner stakeholders. In the context of today's event, D4RS proposes a national effort to mark Remembrance Day of road safety victims with a lasting memorial, a reminder to each member of our society to make road safety a priority in our daily lives and prevent the repeated loss of life on our roads leading to so much pain and anguish in our families.
